

Paik Saber
Executive Director, IP Licensing
IBM

Paik Saber is currently a Business Development Executive at IBM Intellectual Property Licensing organization. In this role, he is responsible for developing, managing, and leading negotiations on wide range of IP licensing opportunities in U.S and Asia Pacific. Prior to his current role, Paik held a number of senior positions in IBM IP Law organization including the position of Chief IP Counsel for IBM Asia Pacific, where he advised a $30B+ business on wide range of IP matters, managed numerous patent licensing projects, led re-engineering of IBM patent portfolio, developed and implemented the AP IP strategy, and managed a culturally diverse organization of about 70 professionals.

Paik has a J.D. degree from Santa Clara University School of Law, an M.S. degree in electrical engineering from University of Minnesota, and B.S. degrees in electrical and computer engineering and mathematics from Oregon State University. He is a member of the California Bar, Oregon Bar, USPTO Bar, and AIPLA.