Partner, Turner Boyd LLP

Karen Boyd specializes in patent litigation. Her clients have ranged from solo inventors and universities to Fortune 100 companies. She has significant trial experience, most recently in a jury trial in a patent case that ended in a mistrial when the opposing party started threatening his own lawyer with physical violence. You can't make this stuff up.

Ms. Boyd received her law degree in 1996 from Boalt Hall and her master's degree in molecular biology from UCLA. Her bachelor's degree is in environmental biology.

Before founding Turner Boyd, Ms. Boyd was a partner at Fish & Richardson and law clerk to the Honorable Paul Michel of the Federal Circuit.
