

Professor Sharon K. Sandeen
Hamline University School of Law

Sharon K. Sandeen is a Professor of Law at Hamline University School of Law in St. Paul, Minnesota, where she teaches a variety of intellectual property law courses. Prior to beginning her teaching career, Professor Sandeen practiced law in California, specializing in intellectual property litigation and counseling. A native of northern California, she received a Bachelor of Arts degree in Political Science from the University of California, Berkeley, a Juris Doctorate from the University of Pacific, McGeorge School of Law, and an LL.M. from the University of California, Berkeley School of Law (Boalt Hall). Her research interests and recent scholarship focus on trade secret law, including the history, purpose, and scope of the Uniform Trade Secrets Act and Article 39 of the TRIPS Agreement. She currently serves as the Chair of the IP Transactions Committee of the Business Law Section of the American Bar Association.