

Holly Fujie, the 84th President of the State Bar of California, is only the third woman and the first Asian American to hold that position. She received both her AB and her JD from the University of California at Berkeley, and she was recently named Alumna of the Year by the California Law Review. She is the incoming President Elect of the Boalt Hall Alumni Association. A litigation Shareholder in the Los Angeles-based law firm of Buchalter Nemer, she speaks frequently at California law schools on issues related to diversity and the retention of women in the profession.
