Neil Potts
Public Policy Director,
Trust & Safety Policy, Facebook

Neil Potts is Public Policy Director at Facebook with oversight of Facebook's Trust and Safety Policy Team—a team of subject matter experts that provide advice and counsel to the company on a variety of issues including counterterrorism, cybersecurity, civic integrity, safety, and human rights. Neil previously led the development and implementation of Facebook's Community Standards: the company's rules about what types of content are allowed on its platform. Before joining Facebook, Neil served as a ground intelligence officer in the United States Marine Corps and deployed in support of Operation Enduring Freedom and Operation Iraqi Freedom.
