

Aradhana Raj
Director and Senior Counsel, Privacy
PayPal

Aradhana Raj is Director and Senior Counsel of Privacy at PayPal. Over the past 10 years, Aradhana has served as in-house counsel at various financial institutions both in Silicon Valley and in Chicago. After two years at a firm, Aradhana practiced as a banking lawyer at BMO Financial Group. In that role, she also began advising on privacy matters. Over the years, her privacy role expanded eventually becoming the head privacy counsel at Discover Financial Services. At PayPal, Aradhana advises the business on privacy matters concerning product development and strategy, marketing, data use and governance, and risk. She is a graduate of Indiana University School of Law.
