Re: Barclay's Bank v. Consumer

Dear Mr. Tang:

I am the defendant in the above-referenced case and am writing with a settlement proposal.

I would like to enter into a stipulation for entry of judgment that provides that the judgment won't be entered as long as I pay the principal balance of $2,000 over 40 months in $50 payments.

I have taken the liberty of preparing a stipulation and am enclosing it. If it is acceptable, please let me know and I will sign and mail the original to you. I look forward to hearing your client's response to my proposal.

Sincerely,

Carl Consumer
