

Romy Saloner
Vice President of Operations
Genome Medical

Romy Saloner has a background in health care operations and a passion for enabling access to the highest quality of care for all. In her role as Vice President of Operations at Genome Medical, Romy oversees finance, HR and legal. Prior to joining the team at Genome Medical, Romy was a Regional Operations Director at Davita Inc. She previously held several positions at non-profits focused on HIV, AIDS and global health in the United States and East Africa. Romy received her Bachelor of Arts in public policy from Stanford University and her Master of Business Administration from the Stanford University Graduate School of Business.